Answers to Correspondents.

We take this occasion to briefly reply to some letters of inquiry which we have received of late.

J. B., Ohio .- White Cloud is not one of the so-called political towns of Kansas -that is, it was not founded by one cer-tain political party, to be a sort of headquarters or stronghold for them. It is true, one party has a large majority here, but that just happens so-it has not been brought about by any special efforts to that end, by any one interested here. All good, industrious citizens are welcome, no matter what is their politics, or where they are from. Your business would do well here.

S. P., Pennsylvania.-There is plenty of wood on the White Cloud town site, and almost every kind of building material right here. Most of the trees are oak, which is just the stuff for sills, joists and studding. There is also considerable walnut, which will make frames; and just over the river, opposite town, is any amount of cotton-wood and walnut, for siding and shingles. Lian and elm are not scarce. The clay here makes excellent brick; the best of sand is found in the bluffs near town; the building stone near the landing cannot be beaten; and it is found, by trial, to make excellent lime, which many have heretofore thought

N. J. C., Illinois .- You want to know if there is any "sickness" here. Sickperson, who a has better memory than the rest, says he believes it means to lie in bed, have a man with a pair of saddlebags come and feel of your wrist, make you stick your tongue out, and pour nasty stuff down your throat ! To speak pretty near the truth, we believe a number of persons did bring remnants of the dry cough, "shakes," and liver complaint, along, but they were unable to keep these curiosities long, after arriving here.

H. A. B., Virginia .- Coal is found, in any quantity, seven or eight miles from here; and indications of it have been discovered on the town site. The person you inquire about, whom you say went to Kansas, we are not acquainted with. Kansas is several miles in extent, and he may be in another part of the Territory.

J. L., Indiana .- You might ford the River at this place-like Pharaoh forded the Red Sea! If you want to bring a team here by land, we have a very good ferry at this place-next Spring, we expect to have a steam ferry-boat.

Other correspondents will be attended

NOTICE TO CLAIMANTS .- J. H. Strickler, Commissioner for Auditing Claims, is now visiting various points in the Territory, taking testimony regarding all the losses of personal property, occasioned by the disturbances in Kansas. He will be at Iowa Point, November 9th and 10th. All persons wishing to present their claims for losses incurred, are required to have them drawn up in legal form, and to bring the fullest proof possible of their correctness. At least two reliable witnesses must be produced by each claimant -the forms or petitions to be sworn to before the Commissioner. The object is to present a memorial to the next Congress, to have the losses refunded. We are not able to say whether the losses to be refunded by Congress, are to embrace the losses of those who came here from other States to fight, or contributed money, &c., or whether it is only the losses of the residents of the Territory, who were the only real losers. If none but the latter, the project deserves success.
